

Glassman and Norton receive Head of School Award

Nathan Glassman

William Norton

Joplin, MO - Each year at Thomas Jefferson Independent Day School a high school and a middle school student is selected to receive the Head of School award. This year Senior, Nathan Glassman the son of Karl and Cathi Classman of Carthage was honored with the Upper School Head of School Award and eighth grader William Norton, the son of Mark and Trish Norton of Joplin was awarded with the Middle School Head of School Award.

The Head of School Award is a distinctive honor in which one student each is chosen out of high school and middle school students that currently attend Thomas Jefferson. Glassman and Norton were chosen because they have the following characteristics: outstanding citizenship at the school; compassion for the school and fellow students; leadership; good academics; all around participation in school activities; and is a mentor to his peers.

Bill Carter, head of school said, "Nathan Glassman and Will Norton are both an outstanding example of what Thomas Jefferson is all about. They show integrity, respect, honesty and compassion in everything that they do. We are proud to have such outstanding students at Thomas Jefferson." Both students were given a certificate and plaque at the 2007 Honor's Day assembly in May.
